Officeworks Chatswood extends helping hand to local community groups to celebrate opening

Officeworks is helping residents in Chatswood achieve their big ideas since opening the doors to its brand new store on March 21 – a development that has brought 40 jobs to the local community.

To demonstrate Officeworks' ongoing commitment to local businesses and community initiatives, the team is making a donation of $2,000 each to Streetwork and Rotary Club of Chatswood.

Officeworks Managing Director, Mark Ward and newly appointed Store Business Manager, Nathan Horne, will present the cheque to Streetwork and Rotary Club of Chatswood alongside Willoughby City Mayor, Cr Gail Giles-Gidney, at the store's grand opening this Friday March 27 at 9am.

The new Officeworks store offers local residents and businesses a comprehensive range of technology and furniture products, as well as office supplies and an extensive range of Print & Copy services.

Officeworks Chatswood will also give residents regular opportunities to be inspired and learn new skills with a schedule of helpful 'How To' classes in-store on weekends; while kids can get creative at Ollie Kids' Club workshops held during school holidays.

The store is open until 9pm weekdays, allowing locals to enjoy longer trading hours, as well as FREE WiFi access and FREE Meeting Room hire, for business, school or recreation gatherings.

Officeworks Chatswood Store Business Manager, Nathan Horne, is thrilled to be welcoming local customers into the new store and introducing them to the wide range of products, great service and everyday low prices that have been helping Australians achieve their big ideas for more than 20 years.

"We've received a very warm welcome from residents with the announcement of opening our doors for the first time on 21 March. Our team of friendly staff are always on hand to inspire and encourage our customers with their projects, big and small. We are looking forward to developing a long-standing relationship with Chatswood's businesses and residents in the coming months," he said.

Visit Nathan and the team at Officeworks Chatswood, Building A, 179 Victoria Ave, Chatswood, NSW, 2067or call them on (02) 9201 8600. To find out more about Officeworks, visit www.officeworks.com.au.
