

Wholesale Partnerships

“Our expanded range is extensive and unlike what you might have expected from Officeworks.”

Officeworks are open to discussing relationships with those who source business furniture for the wholesale market. Whether you are an Architect, Design & Construct business or any other professional who specifies furniture as part of your value proposition – Officeworks can help.

Officeworks have an extensive range of business furniture that is not generally available in-store or online. Officeworks buying power means we can source quality business furniture at lowest prices.

Installation Team

If you need help with installation of your business furniture you have come to the right place. Officeworks can install your furniture according to detailed plans and work with your Project Manager on larger installations.
