Reason the product is recalled

The product is being recalled because it may include asbestos, which is a prohibited substance in Australia.

The hazards to consumers

The product may pose a risk to health as asbestos has been detected in a sample after laboratory testing.

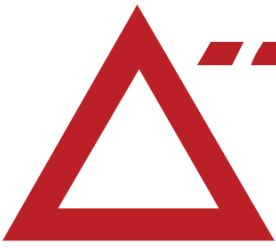

Importantly, respirable asbestos has not been detected in any of the tested samples. The release of respirable asbestos fibres from the sand is unlikely to occur in its current state, unless the sand is processed by mechanical means such as crushing or pulverising.

While the risk that any asbestos found is likely to be airborne or fine enough for inhalation is low, this may still pose a risk.

What consumers should do

1. Stop using the product immediately.
2. For safe disposal advice from the Asbestos and Silica Safety and Eradication Agency, visit the ACCC Product Safety website.
3. Contact your place of purchase, with proof of purchase and safe disposal of the product in accordance with the guidelines above, to request a refund.
